

The fleet got an unexpected washdown during the two days of rain that started on New Year's day. The harbor in La Paz continues to receive new arrivals everyday.